Portland Fish Notes.

With approximately 190,000 pounds of groundfish for Burnham & Morrill's East Deering packing plant, the beam trawler Winthrop was due in Portland during the night and will be docked this morning to start discharging her fare. Another trawler, the fifth of the season, is due tomorrow, but no advices have been received yet by local officials concerning which vessel is making the call. The Georgetown, of the O'Hara fleet, finished unloading 220,000 pounds of fish at the East Deering wharf just before dark Tuesday and shifted to Custom House wharf with 40,000 pounds consigned to the Portland Fish company. The Thomas Whalen, of the O'Brien fleet, finished taking on ice and supplies at Central wharf last evening and headed for the banks for another fare.
